09:01:12 From David Koech to Everyone:

Information professionals needs to link their activities to SDG and as a young professional whom i strongly advocate for SDG,we have engaged ourselves in this noble task. Young Leaders are potentially passionate to offer solutions to what ails our world currently. To maximize their potential, Leaders, stakeholders ,professionals should involve young professionals in their decision making and their plans towards achievement of sustainable development goals objectives.

Moreover, young leaders are much actively involved in fellowships and programs that have positively impacted communities in realization of Sustainable Development Goals and themselves being the advocates of change.

09:01:49 From Mustapha Bockarie to Everyone:

09:12:34 From Plam Stoyanov to Everyone:

We are on half of the way to 2030 but the SDGs are fa-less from half achieved. We have probably to think already about extending the time frame till 2035 or just to start with the development of new strategic period for the existing SDGs thinking about reformulating them as well in order to have tangible results at the end of the new time period.
